

Makgoba named as Archbishop of Cape Town

September 26 2007 at 12:48am

The current bishop of Grahamstown, Thabo Makgoba, was on Tuesday elected as Archbishop of Cape Town, the Anglican Church said.

"He's the youngest person to be elected Archbishop of Cape Town," said spokesperson Matt Esau of 47-year-old Makgoba.

Makgoba was one of three people nominated for the post.

Outgoing Archbishop Njongonkulu Ndungane would retire on December 31. - Sapa

<http://www.iol.co.za/news/south-africa/makgoba-named-as-archbishop-of-cape-town-1.372167#.VCE3ixacxfg>